As Christmas neared, it arrived at DeKalb from many different directions. The halls sprouted festive holiday decorations and the Christmas spirit filled the hearts of everyone. The season was topped for many by the Christmas Formal sponsored by the Tri-Hi-Y. Mid-Winter's Dream was selected as this year's theme. Tedra Simanton, elected as this year's Christmas Formal Queen, reigned over the evening's festivities. Serving in her court were Dianne Korff and Sharon Johnson.

English: Our Means of Communication

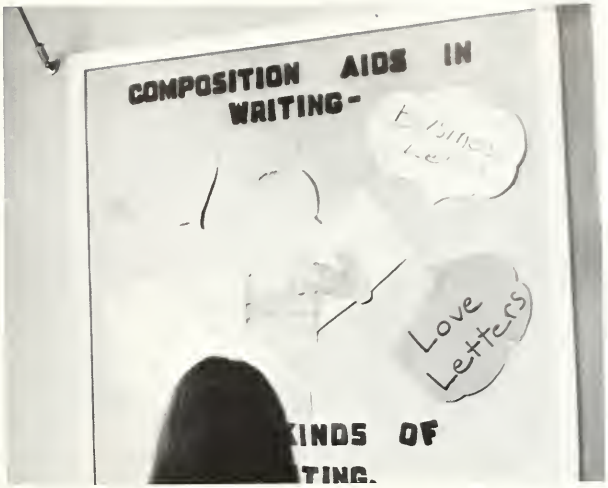
Drama class is having a picnic!

Journalism students analyze a newspaper.

Students read their World Lit. assignment during class.

Barb Sebert looks into the audience for that special someone.



Essential for day-to-day living is the ability to communicate efficiently. To help succeed in efficient communication, English classes instill in each student this talent. English 9 and 10 teach each student the basic skills of speaking and writing, while Composition and Speech enrich what these early classes have begun. Literature classes explore the feelings of the past and present and sometimes venture into the future. Journalism breaks down the everyday newspaper for study, and developmental reading allows students to gain more information through faster reading. Visual communication is accomplished through TV and Drama classes which cultivate theatrical interests and talents.

Sophomores diligently improve their reading skills.

How many books do you need for a research paper?

Herr Griggs readies his control board for another launch into the German language.

Jon Duncan tries his hand at breaking open a traditional Spanish pinata in the Spanish room.

Language: Portal to a New Culture

In the seclusion of her booth, Ellen Foley concentrates on her French lesson.

Ouvrez vos livres a la page soixante dix-huit.

Mrs. Voss oversees a Latin test on the material that she has recently presented.

Through the language classes students learn the techniques of speaking a new and strange tongue. As a part of the international world of learning, students master drills and dialogues to perfect their mastery of this new communication. Four years of French and German, three of Spanish, and two years of Latin make up this phase of the curriculum. As students learn how other peoples talk, they also explore the living customs and traditions of foreign countries.

Jerry Friend seems amazed at the explanation of some German fundamentals.

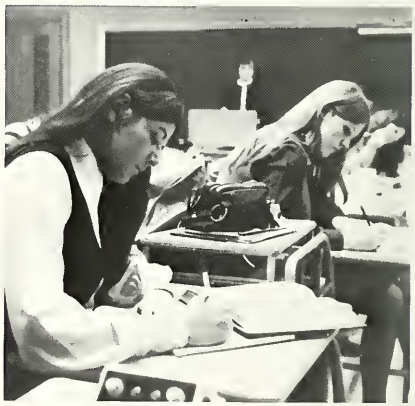
The French IV class tries its hand at community learning.

Overhead earphones in the Spanish room give students the opportunity to hear the pronunciation of new words in the native tongue of the language.

Future secretary Cindy Brown duplicates some memos as part of her assignment.

Mr. Williams deciphers the laws of the business world to his class.

A well-supplied business department gives all the knowledge necessary to become a secretary in the office world. The ability to type, take and revise shorthand, keep records, and perform all necessary functions of a business are practiced to perfection in these classes. Not only secretarial work is offered in this department. The exploration of business arithmetic and legal limitations are also investigated to give students a well-rounded curriculum in the field of the white-collar worker.



Linda Carr and Susan Cox concentrate on their shorthand so a mistake is not written.

Pat Sevrence works hard at learning how to operate the keypunch of the data processing equipment so she can process grade cards efficiently.

Business: Ledgers, Symbols, and Machines

Eyes on the copy makes a good secretary.

The mechanical traits of a secretary come into play when the ribbon needs replaced.

Mr. Turner cautiously steals a glance at Linda Balzer's work.

Ellen Dirrim busily checks her figures on one of the business machines.

Judy Campbell diligently takes notes in order to get a good test grade.

Social Studies: Timeline of Education

The many intriguing files of the clerk's office offer a place to find records to the service experience class.

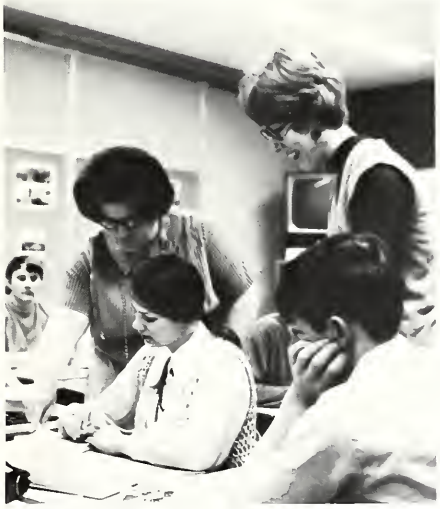
The X-ray department of the hospital also offers a place of mystery to the students who wish to experience community careers.

Dangerous parallel gives history students a chance to solve intercountry conflicts and home country problems.

Mr. Black gives a mental telepathy discussion.

Mr. Carper tries to simplify the "short 1040" tax return.

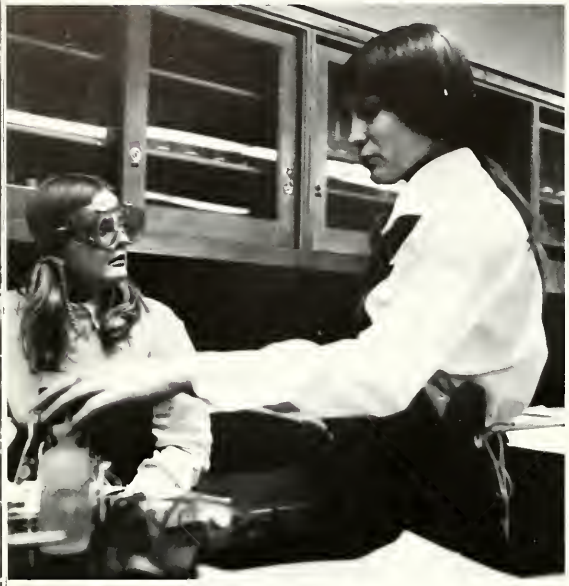
The Social Studies Department offers a variety of classes. Through these courses students have various discussions about issues past and present. Ancient civilizations and present world headaches are discussed along with the judgments of former world leaders. The rise and fall of the economy, pursued through the discussion of the stock market, taxes, and various government agencies gives a view of the market world. The making of our bills and the details of elections help to give students the basics of American government while various foreign governing bodies are also explored. Psychology and Sociology investigate the human mind along with the discussion of modern society's problems. And Service Experience class provides the opportunity to investigate and perform various community duties.



Team teaching gives U.S. History students a double dose.

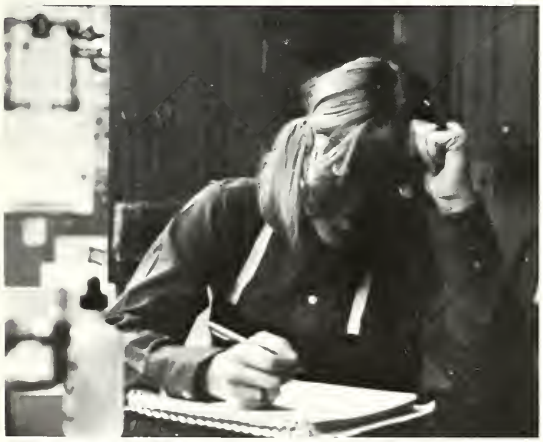
A discussion of our world crisis in government class.

Science: Investigation into the Future



I don't understand.

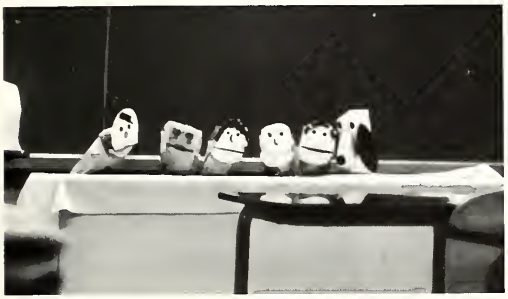
Anyone for a tasty snack?



Science isn't all lab work; there are notes to take too.

Mr. Murphy explains gerbils to one of his classes.

Art: Creative Freedom of Movement



The creations of the Art Skills class come to life as the production begins.

Individual creativity is a must in the world of an artist. Whether he be forming raw clay into an intricate form or capturing a pictorial moment on film, he must be original. In the various art classes available to a Baron, freedom of expression is offered in almost any field of art possible. Also offered are a few extraordinary classes for those students willing to venture into the unusual.

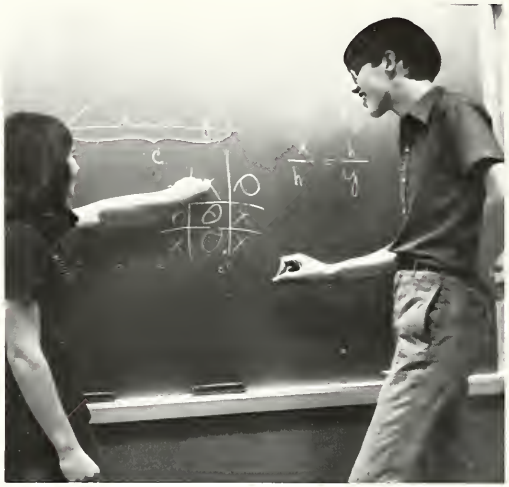
The photography class probes into the inner workings of a camera.

Mr. Stone discusses the future shape of a muddled mass of clay with a student, Nancy Holden.

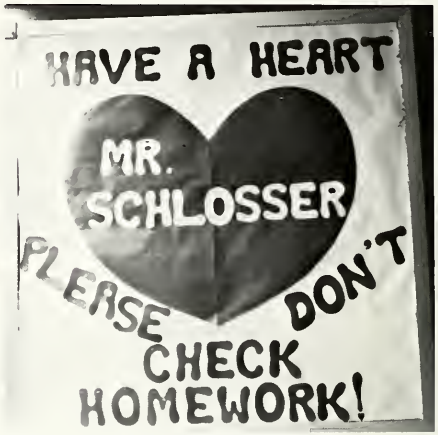
Debbie carefully chisels her wood block.

Hesitation before creation.

The World of Math: Many Opportunities for All



True mathematicians at work.



How about it, Wild Bill?

I'd go to any length for a good grade in Trig!

Marymae Gingrich puts the board into use in Algebra II.

Hey, Brad! What assignment are you studying?

The inseparables!

Courses offered to math students give them a chance to explore the methods of problem solving. Practical Math further explores the everyday type of problems that were introduced in the elementary grades. Algebra I introduces basic mathematical structure which is furthered by Algebra II while Geometry investigates the mechanical properties of various shapes and relates them to mathematical equations. Trigonometry finds answers through the disection of triangles and analytic geometry gives an understanding of relations between algebraic and geometric concepts.

Brad Miller seems to be very involved in something. Algebra II?

Industrial Arts: The Image of Industrialization

Whirrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrr!

Terry Dean is busy scaling his outline.

Hey Gary! What's the matter?

Whether working on your car, constructing a bookcase for your room, or drawing plans for a future construction, you can acquire these skills in the Practical Arts classes. Actual experience in doing these tasks provides you with an excellent background to proceed into the future.

Genius at work?

Home Economics: The World of the Practical

This future homemaker learns the techniques of making delicious fried food.

Mrs. Casey uses a demonstration to make sure everyone understands the procedure.

In the kitchens of the Home Ec Department, future homemakers learn the tricks of the trade. From the selection of the menu to the cleaning of the utensils, all steps are learned in the production of a good meal. Students also acquire the ability to follow patterns to perfection in order to create an economical new outfit to wear. This department also offers courses in family living and home ec for boys. Thus, a well-rounded curriculum is provided for the making of future homemakers.

Careful cutting results in a new outfit to wear.

Careful ironing techniques are also taught to home ec. students.

An attractive table setting improves the flavor of the food.

Expl. Teaching: Rewarding Experience

Peggy and Sheila demonstrate a playground argument.

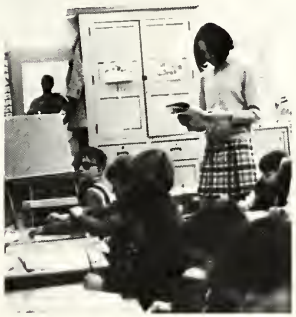
Diane casts a disapproving look at a classroom disruption.

Exploratory Teaching is a one-semester course offered to seniors that have a 2.5 or higher grade average. The first nine weeks are spent in the classroom studying the behavior of children, discussing classroom situations, listening to various teachers tell about their field, and watching movies pertaining to teaching. Students then observe various grade levels to help them determine which age group they would like to work with.

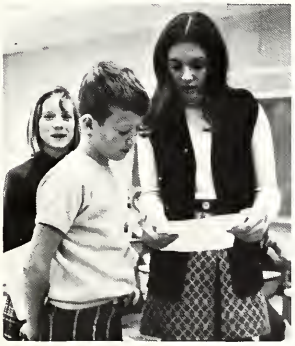
The second nine weeks, students go to their chosen class for one hour a day four days a week. Their activities include the preparation of bulletin boards, working with individual students, and teaching lessons to the class.

Any student interested in the exploratory teaching class will find it to be a rewarding experience.

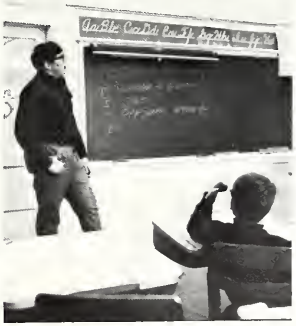
Carol readies her class for recess.



Paula studies her presentation.



Debbie explains a homework assignment.



Burnell presents a reading lesson.

Physical Education Encourages Fitness

Assistant Jim Stepp demonstrates weight training to the sophomores.

Dancing is displayed in the sophomore girls' classes.

The girls seem to be enjoying a game of volleyball.

Rhythm is taught through the use of bowling pins in the advanced girls' classes.

Girls' basketball is played in the s. ed. advanced classes.

Variety Disguises Hard Work in Gym

Refereeing is one of the duties Gerald Wilhelm performs as a P.E. Assistant.

An exciting basketball game results as the "skins" meet the "shirts."

Modern dance is a phase of phys. ed. that sophomore girls explore.

Terry Dean takes a rest while a teammate shoots a free throw.

Miss Dunn demonstrates to the class a simple rhythm routine.

Agriculture: Education of the Farmer

The characteristics of different animal breeds are studied in vocational agriculture classes.

These students are concerned with the preservation of wildlife.

In today's complicated world, good farming techniques are a necessity. The agriculture department gives instruction in soil conservation, crop production and selection, and selection and characteristics of animal breeds. The department also offers courses in forestry, conservation, and wildlife. The farmer of today must also be prepared to repair his machinery; therefore, classes in farm power and farm machinery are available.

Ag. students also gain information through lectures.

Charlie Trapp repairs a broken part.

Soil testing provides for proper fertilization.

The 1970-71 Student Council was very active and successful in providing the student body with the essentials in making this year worthwhile. The Council provided football and basketball programs for all the games and the spirit flag, which now flies east of the school. In another step to promote school spirit the Council has formulated plans to display the crest throughout the gym.

Various representatives and officers during the year attended other high schools, noting the responsibilities and actions of the councils.

Tan Yat Ming, Student Council's foster child from Hong Kong has books, clothing, and food which he may not have had otherwise. Other accomplishments of the council . . . are juke box placed in the commons, and referees and score keepers for intramurals. How do you capture
And hold from the bonds of time,
A baby's smile,
The beauty of a rainbow,
The joy of friendship,
Or the happiness of lovers?

How do you show others,
How deeply you appreciate and feel toward the values of life.
These inner feelings that exhilarate your soul,
Should be shared.

Words multiple upon multiple,
Arranged and rearranged
Attempting to portray these feelings,
This is poetry.

Baron "Big Red Machine" Rebuild

September dawned a new era in the Baron world of football. The "Big Red Machine" found themselves in the midst of a giant rebuilding program. Thirteen Seniors with relatively little experience were forced to attempt to bridge a large gap left from last year's graduation. Even though they could only muster a 2—7 record, the "Machine" could have easily been over .500 with a few more breaks in their favor. Also, the Barons faced two new and very strong teams, Goshen and Chesterton. The Barons did show good promise and have many talented Juniors and Sophomores who should transform the "Big Red Machine" into another Northeast Indiana powerhouse in the next couple of years.

The Baron mini-machines also faced a season of disappointment as they too were in a rebuilding season. A two-win, five-loss, and one-tie season record was among the grievances of our mini-machine. They began their season with shutouts over East Noble, Snider of Ft. Wayne, and Angola; but were met by much tougher foes during the rest of the season. These boys figure to be a big help in the Barons' transformation back to a Northeast Indiana powerhouse.

Baron Frosh Learn the Hard Way

Coach Jones' Frosh machine were met by a season of very tough opponents. Even though they worked very hard, all they could muster was a 1—3 win and loss record. The Frosh opened their season with a 24—16 loss to a big and strong Northridge team. They were beaten by Garrett 34—8 in their next outing. This loss seemed to put some charge in the forces and they came back the next week and shut out Angola 12—0. They finished their season with a great game going down to defeat at the hands of a powerful Columbia City team 8—0. Given a couple of years, our boys should develope to keep the winning tradition of DeKalb High School.

The team placed 4th in the Sectional and 6th in the Regional, and should be congratulated for making the DeKalb cross country team a respected opponent. Only two lettermen will not be returning next year, and the team has many promising frosh and sophs, so all you Barons can look forward to another great season in 1971-72.

Baron Netters Enjoy 7—3 Season

Our Baron Netters enjoyed an excellent 7—3 season. Under the direction of their new Coach, Steve Bowman, they became a respected group of sportsmen. Under the direction of new head coach, Ramar "Whitie" Wakenight, our Baron Hoopsters began a rebuilding program. Coach Wakenight told us at the beginning of the season not to be surprised if our men did not win a game until after Christmas. This statement proved to be extremely true.

After losing seventeen games in a row our team finally broke through with back-to-back victories over Eastside and Columbia City. A loss in the season's finale left our men with a 2—18 season record.

The Barons' 59.0 point per game average was headed by Senior Steve Seiss with an average of better than 14 points per game. Steve also made all NEIC honorable mention. Junior Denny Post averaged over 12 points a game, and Super Soph Dave Gafken added 12 points per game. Next year looks to be a big success as only four seniors will leave this year's team. Five juniors and three sophs will carry the bulk of the load and with this year's experience should return our Barons to the ranks of area teams to beat.

Two juniors, seven sophs, and two frosh made up this year's reserve squad. Under the direction of Coach Workman this group of young men played an inspirational game of basketball. They worked hard during the season and in a few instances played on pride alone. Their 6—14 season record is very misleading when one considers that six of these losses were of 10 points or less. With this year's experience many of these boys should move up and do a fine job for our varsity in the near future.

DeKalb's linksmen enjoyed a fine 9—7 record for the 1971 season. Underclassmen carried the load, as only one senior was on the team. Because of the good showing of the underclassmen, Coach Jack Wagner feels that the next years are promising.

Included in the Barons' nine wins were double wins over rival Garrett and wins over conference foes Columbia City, Angola, and New Haven. With hard work, determination, and a little luck, Coach Wagner's troops should improve considerably next year.

Ken Wilson 1st at State

Ken Wilson: low hurdles.

Ivan Silva: long jump.

Coach Bob Voelkel's 1971 Baron trackmen enjoyed another terrific season!

Just as they had done during the past two years, the Barons were impressive wherever they went. For the third straight year, they brought back the first place trophy from the Kokomo Relays. The Men-in-Red also won the Columbia City Relays and nearly succeeded in their defense of their conference crown, losing by just two points. Their season record was nine wins and one loss in regular meets.

In I.H.S.A.A. Sectional competition, the Baron hopes were high and they qualified two men for the Regional, Steve Seiss in the high hurdles and Ken Wilsoed our State qualifiers to the low stickman.

At the State meet in Indianapolis, the final showdown of the year took place for DeKalb's Wilson. After a slow start, Ken came on strong and brought home DeKalb's first State track blue ribbon. The '71 Saber salutes our fine state champ!

Stan Seiss: mile run.

I'll Live On

I say to you now.
When I am gone,
Do not sit and weep as though
your heart was breaking,
But rather remember the things I loved,
The things I believed in, stood for,
The goals I strived for
And be glad, that while I was here
I did love, laugh, believe and strive
For those things that were a part of me.
So much more would I have you
remember me in these,
And not shed a tear
Than for you to weep
And then forget the things my life,
Though so young and unfulfilled,
stood for.

IVAN DA COSTA SILVA: A TRUE BARON

Ivan Da Costa Silva, DeKalb's fourth AFS student, arrived in the U.S. from Cutitiba, Brazil, in late August of 1970. While living with Ken Wilson and his family, Ivan grew accustomed to the daily life in Indiana. He did many things, such as hunting in Michigan, skiing with Campus Life, and snow mobiling.

Ivan found life at DeKalb High School an interesting experience. At DeKalb, Ivan was active in gymnastics, track, Student Council, Boys' Pep Club, National Honor Society, and various activities offered. After a two-week tour of the U.S., Ivan returns to Brazil and college. At college he plans to study for his career as a doctor and later to return to the U.S. and finish his medical education. We hope Ivan comes back to Indiana, too.

The Light of Life

Add to the Lamp of Knowledge
The fuel of human understanding,
Courage,
Compassion
And common sense,
And its light will serve you well
Through the joys and challenges
Of life.
